A Good Citizen

Mr. & Mrs. Schubach and their home.

It doesn't concern us so much about where people are born, but it is the work they do that makes them valuable citizens.

Mr. C. C. Schubach came to Chadwick from Nebraska about thirty five years ago.

Mr. Schubach is an exceptionally good carpenter. He has built several good homes about Chadwick. Besides being a good house carpenter, he does a great deal of beautiful cabinet work. He made a beautiful inlaid box and presented it to the school for the permanent grade cards.

He grew the first strawberries that were ever grown at Chadwick. He wasn't satisfied with growing just common berries, but developed them to such an extent that they won the prize at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis in 1904.

This good friend of ours has always taken an interest in music. A number of young people in the community owe their start in music to Mr. Schubach's interest and instruction.

Perhaps the greatest work that Mr. Schubach has done for us has been his work as a member of the school board. He encouraged consolidation, and when our consolidated district was organized he was elected as a member of the first board and served faithfully as president of the board for a term of three years.

Although Mr. Schubach had no children or grandchildren of school age in our community he worked diligently for the interest of the school. He was always loyal to the school through all the trouble in connection with the consolidation. After the bonds were voted he, by the help of Mr. J. W. Rozell, planned our beautiful school building. While the building was in the process of construction Mr. Schubach was ever

Art

Art was originated by man soon after mankind came on earth and has attended his every step in the ascent of civilization.

The savage man picked up a stick in the forest and used it to slay wild beasts. While it answered the purpose very well, it was crooked and rough, and seemed not at all what a good club should be. He probably threw the first one away and chose another and another, but none satisfied him. At last he assumed that he could shape one nearer to his needs than nature had done. With a sharp flint stone he hewed off the bark, trimmed away the knots, tapered one end until it fitted his hands and took on lines and curves that delighted his creative soul. This was the first step toward art.

The tiger skins made a showy garment for the savage maiden, but it fitted the tiger better. When the maiden began taking stitches in the tiger skins, art advanced another step.

Your beautiful school building would not have been possible had not some early man had the impulse to come from his cave and build a shelter more to his liking.

One of those primitive hunters saw a strange animal and wishing to de-present to see that these plans were carried out. We shall always appreciate what he has done for our school.

All through these years of Mr. Schubach's service to the community, Mrs. Schubach has been an ever present helper. We know for a certainty that her words of comfort and her cups of good hot coffee have done much toward driving away the blues, and inspire her husband on to more community work.

Mrs. Frances Loomis

In the passing away of Mrs. Frances Shipman Loomis, the school has lost a loyal friend and the community has lost a Christian woman. Mrs. Loomis was always ready to encourage the right and condemn the wrong. She was a member of the Chadwick Baptist Church, to which she was very devoted.

Mrs. Loomis is survived by her husband, Howard Loomis, and eight sons and one daughter. The boys are: Tom, John, Arthur, Ernie, Edd, Paul, Earl and Fred. The girl is Marrion, who has so tenderly nursed her mother through her lingering illness. All of the relatives have the sympathy of the pupils and teachers of Chadwick school. Marrion and Fred have recently been with us in school and have won our friendship and to them we especially extend sympathy.

Interment was in the Fairview Cemetery on September 13th.

Visitors at School

Mr. T. J. Walker, of Columbia, Missouri, editor of "The School and Community," a state educational paper, and the State Superintendent, Chas. A. Lee, accompanied the County Superintendent, Chas. F. Boyd, on a visit to our school Monday, August 21. All three of these gentlemen expressed themselves as being well pleased with our school building and school work.

Mr. Walker is going to write an article on the consolidated schools of Christian County and will discuss our school as one of the most important. He is going to use a picture of our school building in that article.

Echoes

We are just in receipt of the first number of your little paper, Chadwick School and Community. I want to congratulate you very much on this splendid work you are doing and we are very glad to see that your consolidated school is in such excellent condition and hope for you every success in the work you are doing there.

Sincerely yours,
The School of the Ozarks,
R. M. Good, President.

Reward for Good Attendance

Mr. Doughty has arranged a contest between the two grade school rooms to see which can have the best attendance. The room which has the best record for the month gets one-fourth of a day off for a holiday.

Mr. Kisson's room won that one-fourth day. They went to a spot near the school house where there was a cave. They brought candy and other sweets to eat. After they were done eating they climbed trees and played games. Everyone enjoyed the trip. These pupils hope to have the best attendance for next month.

The Pictures

The pictures of the Chadwick High School Building and of the Chadwick Community Band were taken August 31, 1926, by Mr. Chas. Garton of Ozark. The pictures turned out to be good ones.

For those who wish to know, the price is sixty cents each. Mr. Doughty has charge of the pictures of the building and Mr. Sergeant of the pictures of the band.

Music and Moving Pictures

The Chadwick Community Band had a very enjoyable time during the day they spent at Linden. The music seemed to be appreciated by all who were there.

One day was spent at Marvel Cave, where the band and many other visitors were shown through the cave. Motion pictures were taken of the band and of the crowd which stood listening.

Honor Roll

Although the weather has been rainy and there has been some sickness, there was a small increase in the enrollment and the average attendance over the first month. We appreciate the cooperation of the parents who are sending their children to school regularly. A small per cent of the parents are negligent about sending their children to school. If your neighbors' children are not in school encourage them in attending school regularly. Public sentiment is one of the strongest influences we have. Let us build up a strong public sentiment for good attendance at school.

The following pupils have been perfect in attendance during the second month:

Elsie Allen, Francis Koenig, Oscar Koenig, Lorane Bilyeu, Mabel Weatherman, Everett Brownfield, Loderna Brownfield, Edna Calvin, Ralph Calvin, Dorothy Calvin, Berry Hobbs, Mildred Mapes, Lonn Rozell, Jean Marie Rozell, Ruth Rozell, Carl Shipman, Gladys Shipman, Irene Shipman, Sylvester Shepherd, Jessie Shepherd, Kretz Smart, Edith Smart, Lucy Weter, Fae Anderson, Harold Anderson, Joy Anderson, La June Anderson, Ray Anderson, Jewell Ball, Buster Boles, Doris Brown, Ruby Dodge, Anna Finney, Fairy Fletcher, Herda Gorves, Theta Gorves, Thelma Love, Lloyd Love, Lloyd Mapes, Nola Mapes, Aldine Raines, Pauline Roberts, Helen Rozell, Norella Rozell, Josephine Shipman, Thelma Shipman, Mildred Weter, Hershel Walker, Ada Brown, Opal Hobbs, Weir Holt, Lois Lowe, Orlin Mapes, Hazel Raines, Irma Raines, Vern Rozell, Clarice Rozell, Reggie Rozell, Gains Sutton, Gladys Sutton, Mae Van Seyoc, Hazel Freeborn.

The Girl Scouts who were present at the picnic supper Monday, August 30th, had a good time. Let every girl be present next time to share the fun.

Mrs. Dulcena Gray

Edna and Reggie Gray, of Walnut Grove School have the sympathy of the teachers and pupils in the entire consolidated district in the loss of their mother.

Mrs. Dulcena Gray, wife of John Gray, passed away at her home southeast of Chadwick, Wednesday, August 18, 1926, after a lingering illness from tuberculosis. Funeral services were conducted at the Gray home Friday afternoon by Rev. Shelby Lawson and burial was in the Boston Cemetery, southeast of Oldfield.

Mrs. Gray's maiden name was Dulcena Hursh. She was born in Christian County, Missouri, February 25, 1887. She has been a good neighbor, a good wife and a good mother.

The deceased leaves her husband and five children, Lewis, 21; Roy, 18; Lucy, 16; Edna, 12; and Reggie, 9. She is survived also by her aged father, George Hursh; six sisters, Sarah Coffey, Carrye Hughes, Bethena Adams, Estella Lowe, Frankie Connors and Elsie Moody; two brothers, John and Richard Hursh and a host of other relations and friends.

Tuesday, August 31, was grape day in the Chadwick school. The grape growers of the community furnished enough grapes to treat every pupil in school. They are going to give a basket of grapes to the pupil in the grade school that can write the best essay on "The Food Value of Grapes" and also a basket to the one writing the best in high school.

Christian County W. C. T. U. Convention

The annual county W. C. T. U. convention was held at Cassidy, September 2nd.

The convention was opened by singing, followed by a scripture lesson, Romans 12, and prayer by County President, Stella Wasson. Business was transacted in the morning and the county president explained where some of our money goes. A song was sung by Mother Carrolton. Discussions were held on different departments of the W. C. T. U. such as: The Flower Missions, Child Welfare, Relief Work for Soldiers and Sailors, Americanization Work, and how to get people out to their meetings. Individual and local union pledges were taken up to carry on the county work. Lissie Rozell gave the noon tide prayer, after which they adjourned to partake of a bounteous dinner on the lawn.

The afternoon program began with devotional exercises. The local president of each union gave a report of the work done in each union during the past year.

The convention voted to retain all present county officers. A Bible contest was held in which Mrs. Nan Goddard, Mrs. Mag Gilmore and Mrs. Josie Rozell took part. Each repeated a Bible chapter, which they had memorized. Special music, "The Holy City," was rendered by Mrs. Laura Stine. A reading was given by Mollie Doran. There were five babies dedicated to the White Ribbon cause. A song, "He Watches Me," was sung by Mother Carrolton. Last but not least, the Nixa Y. P. B. gave a play entitled "The Patriotic Wedding." After this the meeting adjourned.

It was decided that the W. C. T. U. should meet at Chadwick for their next annual convention.

The Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts helped the Grape Growers load a part of a car load of grapes during their noon hour, Tuesday, September 14.

No one can repeat what you do not say.

scribe it to his friends, drew an outline of it on the wall of his cave. Thus came the art of picture making.

Although the practice of art seemed to grow out of man's efforts to supply his bodily needs, there was a spiritual quality to it from the first. As the laws of construction were searched out and applied there was an exaltation, a sense of participation in creation that spurred to greater efforts. These same processes are in operation today, but the beginning was simple and more easily illustrated.

Art reveals the love of the workman for his work. It gives a touch of grace to the humblest utensil; it curves the vase and the violin; and in its higher manifestations, stirs the deepest emotions by ideal arrangements of form, of color and of music.

When art has attained all the efforts of man to altar the material world to his needs and desires, when he has arranged all the resources of earth so that they will yield the greatest possible service to his body, mind and soul, then the mission of art will be fulfilled.—H. M. Vincent.

Bible Stories in the Primary Room

The W. C. T. U. has suggested that we have some sort of religious exercise in each room every morning.

Bible stories are about all the little children can understand and enjoy. Since it is quite a task for Miss Derrick, their teacher, to have a new story for them every morning, fifteen high school students have volunteered to tell Bible stories to the children. Our club president appoints one of these students each morning to tell a story.

The plan has proved successful and several good stories have been told. Each one seems to be taking great interest in the work.

The traveling public is rejoicing over the new bus that Boles and Jernigan have placed on the road between Springfield and Chadwick.
