Senior Dedication Prom

On this night of graduation, tears of joy and sadness fills our eyes, as we wait for our names to be called to walk up the stairs and say goodbye to all our school years.

On this day of graduation, we're sitting here looking back and forth between each other, wondering what were all going to do after this night comes to and end. We've had our ups and downs and we've remained friends clear to the end.

Dedicated to the Sr. Class 1990
