HOMECOMING "93

by Brandy Maggard

The 1992-93 Homecoming was held on February 19, 1993. The crowned Queen was Senior Sara Whitley escorted by Senior Raymond (Norm) Stevens.

The other candidates included, Junior Tonya Rozell escorted by Freshman Josh Gilbert, Sophomore Christal Gilbert escorted by Sophomore Mark Loveland, and Freshman Andi Wilson escorted by Junior Terry Mitchell. Crown bearer was Drew Rozell and flower girl Casey Gardner.

The following athletes also participated in the Homecoming event. Tamara Thurman escorted by Marvin Kinyon, Brandy Maggard escorted by Jack Guerin, Tina Beshirs escorted by Reuben Parker, Tessa Nalley escorted by Travis Smith, Daphne Walker escorted by Shawn Hollon, Heather Hollon escorted by David Wiles, Misty Fintel escorted by Marvin Guerin, Laura Nelson escorted by Don Lee, Candy Plaster escorted by Jason Gilbert. The Junior High Cheerleaders also participated in the Homecoming event. Rintha Goin escorted by Dustin Smith, Tasha Williams escorted by Jeremiah Cummings, Tiffany Peirce escorted by Curtis Anderson, Amber Burkhardt escorted by Joey Wiles, and Megan Widner escorted by Chris Anderson. Other ball players included Joey Sartin, George Dotson, and Daniel Dotson.

The cheerleaders would like to thank all the teachers for their cooperation, and especially Mrs. Russell, cheerleading sponsor.

Following the game there was a Homecoming Dance sponsored by the high school cheerleaders. Enough money was raised to pay for the disc jockey and some of the decorations.

Lady Cardinals...

by Don Lee

This year the Lady Cardinals had a young inexperienced team with five freshmen, one sophomore, and two seniors who haven't played for three years. The Lady Cardinals have been scheduled as a junior varsity team, yet they have only played one other junior varsity team, with the rest of the schedule being played against varsity teams. The Cardinals ended the season with no wins, but the lady Cardinals kept their heads up and had a good time. Coach Arleigh Long says she is a little disappointed, but they do give a 100% in ball games. Coach Long says she will definitely treat this year as a learning experience, and hopefully improve as a team by next season.

High School Boys Basketball

by Terry Mitchell

To sum up the performance of the Cardinals basketball season takes but this one simple phrase "It was the best of times, it was the worst of times."

At times it seemed that Chadwick had two different teams, the ones that would show up and play to their ability and the team that would just show up.

Through the wins and the losses there was one person who would always help us correct what we had done wrong, that person was our fearless leader coach Terry Jester. He kept our heads up when we lost and told us not to let it go to our heads when we had won.

The seniors were given a chance to express their feelings about their playing days on the hardwood of Chadwick. Also their feelings about playing for Coach Jester.

Raymond (NORM) Stevens commented that he thinks we played a really good record. But if we would have had a better offense, and got the ball in the hoop, we would have had a lot better record. He said that he really enjoyed working with Coach Jester.

Jason Gilbert said the season could have been better, there were a lot of games we could have won, he hoped that we would finish strong in districts (which we took second place) and hopes the team will have all-conference players on our team. I enjoyed playing for Coach Jester and I'm happy he gave me a chance to play. I hope next year's team has a good season.

Don (HAMMER) Lee said that we had a pretty good year. We could have played better, but we had a lot of fun. He said that Mr. Jester was a good coach and he wished he would have had more time to play for him.

Marvin Kinyon could not be reached for comment.

Here in the feelings of Coach Jester. "Our record isn't what we had hoped, but we were playing good lately. We played good in 2 of the 3 tournaments and I expect us to play well in the district tournament (2nd place). The junior varsity has played well all year long, they have really had a super season."

Chadwick Cardinals End Successful Season

Congratulations to the high school basketball teams and cheerleaders for a successful season. The boys varsity team had a 14-19 season, took Second Place in the Mark Twain Conference Tournament, Third Place at the Spokane Tournament, and Second Place in the District Tournament. Marvin Kinyon made the All-Conference First Team, Raymond Stevens and Marvin Guerin received Honorable Mention.

Chadwick Varsity cheerleaders perform a routine.

STU-CO

by Tonya Rozell

Have you ever had a problem with school and you didn't want to be the one to go talk to the administration about it. Well, all your frustrations can be taken to our new student organization called "STU CO". This is our new student council group. "STU CO" can be your voice in student issues. If you have a question, an idea, fundraiser, or even a complaint, you can present it to "STU CO" and if we feel that it's important, we will take it to the administration in an organized and convincing way. "STU CO" will be your own personal lobbyist in the CHS political circle.

"STU CO" will be in charge of special events as well as fun, exciting activities to come. As you recall, "STU CO" presented Valentines to CHS students and staff to kick off the project. So for those of you who were wondering who in the world sent you a Valentine signed "STU CO", now you know.

So remember present any ideas or comments to CHS student council, better known as "STU CO".

Question of the Month

by Jason Gilbert

As most of you have observed, I have been asking several Chadwick students questions again this month. I really got some weird answers. Here they are--

QUESTION: WHAT IS A RONYON?

1. Terry Mitchell- tie it around his neck to keep Vampires away
2. Shawn Hollon- take it to the prom
3. Tasha Williams- give it to her boyfriend
4. Tonya Rozell- take it outside and bury it
5. Sara Whitley- hug it and squeeze it and call it George
6. Tamara Thurman- use it in a Star Wars movie as a little furry creature
7. Raymond Stevens- plant it in the garden
8. Brett Stevens- take a bath with it
9. Andi Wilson- take it out on a date
10. Reuben Parker- play basketball with it
11. Rebekah Watts- play with it
12. Marvin Guerin- throw it in the dirt and stomp it
13. Mrs. Snelson- cut it up and cook it in spaghetti
14. Travis Smith- use it to cook with
15. Don Lee- use it as his new girlfriend
16. Dusty Smith- eat it
17. Kevin Jackson- drive it to school
18. Jeremy Gilbert- hit somebody with it.
19. Josh Gilbert- use it to keep his girlfriend from getting mad at him.

After looking at some of these answers, the definition of a ronyon is--A RONYON is a mangy or scabby

Drug Free Advisory

by Regina Denney

The Drug Free Advisory Council along with Donna Walker and Patty Walker organized an activity called "Fun Night". It was on January 30.

Students involved in the Drug Free Advisory Group includes Tonya Rozell, Marvin Guerin, Kevin Jackson, Crystal Gilbert, Tessa Nalley, Daphne Walker, Justin House, Tyler Walker, and Jeremy Gilbert.

Mrs. Walton said she was "very pleased" at how many people attended. Over forty people came to participate in volleyball games and line-dancing. Arleigh Long worked very hard to organize a volleyball tournament. They had refreshments such as popcorn, cookies, and soda pop.

On February 13th, there was a Drug-Free Dance. It was from 7:00-10:00 p.m. Admission was $2 to cover the cost of pizza for everyone. Parents were welcome to come too. People were also able to bring their favorite tunes to dance to.

The purpose of these activities is to give students a place to go and something to do and stay drug-free.

Wonderland Camp Jobs Available

by Laura Nelson

There are jobs available this summer at Wonderland Camp located at Rocky Mount, Missouri.

The camp serves the mentally and physically disabled individuals in Missouri and surrounding states.

The jobs range from counselors to life guards.

Academic Bowl

by Laura Nelson

The Academic Bowl was held in Norwood on Wednesday, March 17.

Team members from Chadwick included junior high students Tyler Walker, Justin House, Robby Guerin, Shawn Guerin, Eric Smith, and Tasha Williams.

The high school students included Jason Gilbert, Marvin Guerin, Beth Whight, Candy Plaster, Tessa Nalley, and Jeremiah Cummings. The sponsors were Mrs. Horton and Mr. Long.

The competition consisted of seven junior high teams and seven high school teams. Schools participating are Lutie, Norwood, Hurley, Chadwick, Bradleyville, Dora, and Bakersville.

The teams sit at tables across from each other. The judge asks questions, then members try to buzz in before the opposite team. Teams winning the most rounds will be presented with trophies.

Jr./Sr. Prom

by Sara Whitley

The 1993 Prom will be held at University Plaza on April 24, 1993. The Juniors have had a variety of fundraisers including selling magazines, jewelry, candy, and refreshments at games to help pay for Prom.

The prom theme song will be "Love of a Lifetime", by Firehouse. The colors are teal, black, and silver.

Sleep

By Misty Fintel

Hardly anyone gets enough sleep. Experts say, in your lifetime, you'll probably sleep about 220,000 hours. But, where are we when we're sleeping? And does our consciousness go? In some cultures, sleep is considered an avenue to another world, and a time when the body recharges and the spirit departs.

When we are all in our peaceful slumbers, we go through the four stages of sleep. First, you enter stage one sleep, which is categorized by the brain waves that are slower than when you're awake, and which passes quickly. If you are awoken from this stage of sleep, you won't always realize that you were asleep. When your brain waves show a sharp spike of activity, you've entered stage two sleep. About half your sleep is spent in this stage, and although you experience drifting thoughts while you're in it, because they aren't visual, they're not dreams. The third and fourth stages of sleep are referred to as Delta sleep. You spend about 20% of sleep in this stage, when your brain waves slow down and you're dead to the world. From Delta sleep you usually reenter stage two sleep, and from there you enter REM (Rapid Eye Movement) sleep. During REM sleep, your eyes move rapidly under their lids, your heart rate and breathing become erratic, and your brain is very active. This is when dream. Your brain waves stop sending signals to your spinal cord during REM sleep, which essentially paralyzes you and keeps you from acting out your dreams. REM sleep marks the end of each ninety-minute sleep cycle, and you usually go through four or five of them a night.

So now that everyone knows what they go through when they sleep, I hope everyone has sweet dreams!!

Sleeping Habits

by Matt Coffey

The average person spends 24 years sleeping during their life. Sleeping habits vary from person to person but most people do get enough sleep. It is recommended that an adult get 8 hours per night. That means if you get up at 7 a.m. you shouldn't watch the late show. Some people seem to go to sleep as soon as they hit the pillow others may take an hour or two to fall asleep. You have dreams every night but you don't always remember them in the morning. It seems that most people need the help of an alarm clock or another person to wake up on time in the morning.

I conducted a survey to find out the sleeping habits of Chadwick students, about 30 individuals were surveyed. The questions dealt with bedtimes, wake up times, how long it takes to fall asleep, waking up, and dreams.

The results are as follows:

Students were diverse on how long it took them to fall asleep, most of them took from fifteen minutes to an hour the longest time was three hours the shortest was five minutes.

Most of the students use an alarm clock, some depended on another family member, a few woke up without any help, these are the students that may come in late for first hour once or twice a week.

Most of the students surveyed remember some of their dreams, a few said that they could remember very few or none, others said that they could remember them when they woke up but forgot them later in the day.

I asked the students what their weirdest dreams were and some of the most unusual responses follow:

Being forced to eat raw pancake batter from a dirty sock.

Going fishing with Brett and Mrs. Horton.

Going on a date with your brother.

Coming to school to find out that no one could talk because they had no tongue.

Inheriting a junk yard and finding $10,000 in each glove box along with the keys.

Now, see if you can match these nightmares to the person that would most likely have them.

1. Game wardens can be everywhere at once.

2. All the Sparta guys disappear.

3. Somebody borrows a hammer and doesn't return it.

4. T-shirts with basketball themes are outlawed.

5. Having to take the A.C.T. until they get a 25.

Here are the people that might have the dream just described.

Travis Smith

Misty Fintel

Greg Stevens

Mr. Countryman

Drug Free Advisory Council Will Host Assembly

The Drug-Free Advisory Council will host an assembly on Friday, April 2. The Assembly is called "Wasted".

The presenter of this assembly works for the Emergency Rescue Squad. She will tell about first-hand experiences she has encountered. The assembly will also focus in on stories about teenagers who drink and drive.

Mrs. Walton urges all students to attend.

Chadwick Juniors Participate In Essay Contest

The English III Class is once again participating in the White River Valley Electric Cooperative essay contest. This year's topic is "is Operation Round Up Consistent With the Rural Electric Cooperative Philosophy?" The program is a new one with the cooperative and is scheduled to begin in April.

The essays will be scored and judged by March 24. The winner from Chadwick High will then compete with other area winners at a banquet in early April. If the student from our high school wins, they could receive an all-expense paid trip to Washington, D.C. this summer.

What's In What's Out

by Shelly Maggard

From combat boots covered with peace signs to college sorority sweatshirts, different styles can be seen everywhere. Looking around one can see the different styles of different people. It seems that everyone and every style can be grouped into some special group. A person may be a roper, headbanger, prep, nerd, new waver, skater, cowboy, loner, wanna be, rapper, freelancer, or any other style a person dresses as. There are people who just want to be themselves and not worry about the pressure of different styles from their fellow peers. These people are sometimes considered an outcast by the way they choose to dress. Why do we, in our society, depend so much on the opinions of others? Only the single person knows why.

Conclusion . . .

In conclusion to my small and brief paragraph, do not be influenced by the chart above, be yourself and never try to judge a person by their so called "style". Who really has the power to say what is in and what is out? Remember it's not what you wear, it's who you are.

Is Clinton The Right Pilot For The Job?

by Tonya Rozell and Don Lee

While President Clinton was on the campaign trail making promises, his popularity skyrocketed, but is it still soaring? That's the question that many CHS students helped answer.

Questionnaires were given out asking the students to name something they like that President Clinton has done and something that they disagree with. There were 44 responses received. Here's a look at just a few.

Most of the sixth graders agreed that there wasn't anything to list under the favorable column for President Clinton. The one issue listed the most stated that they didn't agree with the gay issue. However, one sixth grader, Tiffany Nalley managed to come up with one favorable comment for President Clinton which was kicking former President Bush out of office.

A survey signed by J.J.F. does not agree with gays in the military and the Family Leave Bill.

Mark Loveland commented, "He must not have done anything, and if he did it must not have been very important because I sure did not hear about it".

Ben Whight's response was that he did not like President Clinton being elected at all. Chrystal Gilbert said "He has already managed to choose two women who lied about their background". Tyler Walker learned from a supermarket tabloid that President Clinton feels he made a dumb move by breaking it off with Jenifer Flowers, this will definitely bring down media attention. William Peak thought he should keep her too, he feels she's better looking than Hillary. William also had a response in favor of President Clinton which was putting Chelsey in a private school. Misty Fintel's positive remark was appointing minorities into a position, but Misty did not like how he has broken some of his campaign promises. Shelly Maggard thinks President Clinton is saving the tax payers money by laying off 350 members of the White House staff. Shelly also said she did not like him allowing gays to join the military.

According to the CHS responses President Clinton's rocket of popularity is about as high as the "Challenger". Maybe the people elected the wrong pilot to do the job? You Decide!

PTA NEWS

by Laura Nelson

The PTA is helping to raise money for the school with a number of fundraisers. Some of these are the Donkey Ball Game which was held on March 15. The PTA also held a Pie Supper on March 5.

They are saving J & M food receipts. J & M is paying them 1% of the total receipts. If you shop at J & M you can turn your receipts into the school. You can also save your Best Choice Labels, and Campbell Soup Labels.

There are PTA meetings held on every 4th Monday. If you would like to join you are welcome anytime.

Sixth Graders Experience The Real World

by Tamara Thurman

The sixth grade is participating in a project in which they earn tickets every week. They can use these tickets in various ways. They are given 1 ticket a day. They can use these tickets for an extra restroom pass or to sharpen their pencils. For instance if a student decides he or she would like an extra drink then that would cost them 1 ticket. In January, Mrs. Bevel also started charging the students rent on their desk, chair, and area. Rent is 3 tickets every week. The students must pay or they will find themselves seated on the floor. On Fridays the students have auctions which they can sell things or purchase things. Some responses from the students were that they thought it was fun. They said it gave them a sneak preview of the real world.

Elementary News

Fourth and second-graders will be working together to make learning stations. These learning stations will focus on math, science, and health. The math station will include all types of measurement; length, time, perimeters, area, volume, and mass. Our science stations will center around magnetic properties and electrical circuitry. At the health stations the children will explore the body's major organs. We are looking forward to implementing these learning stations soon.

D.A.R.E. Program

by Tamara Thurman

The sixth Grade is now participating in the D.A.R.E. program. The sixth graders were given a presentation by Officer Frank and the Drug dog Miranda.

D.A.R.E. stands for the Drug Abuse Resistance Education. This program lasts from January through April, a total of 18 weeks. At the end of this time the students will go through a graduation. The students have been given a book to fill out, other booklets, pencils, and etc. Also each student during these 18 weeks gets to keep a Koala bear which stands for "NO DRINK" Sixth grader: Tiffany Nalley said, "She learned the eight way to say no to Drugs. Sarah Wilson commented that. "She learned what D.A.R.E. stands for.

Tiffany Nalley is the winner of a raffle held in the elementary. Pictured with Tiffany is Mrs. Bevil, Mrs. Porter, and Mrs. Goin.

Chadwick Fifth Grade Attends Inauguration

Fifth Grader Doug Bostwick was selected from Chadwick to attend the governors inauguration. He was chosen from a committee of teachers and administrators. Doug was one of 75 students selected to go out of the state.

Doug participated in the parade, Then he attended the ceremony. After the ceremony the students went to talk to the governor.

If given the chance to talk to the governor, Doug said he would ask him to save the school.

SIXTH GRADE

How To Help With Homework

According to the 1986 U.S. Department of Education report What Works: Research about Teaching and Learning, students who do homework regularly achieve more in school. Students of average ability who do three to five hours of homework a week, for example, usually earn the same grades as students of high ability who don't do homework.

Homework teaches students skills they need to become successful, independent, motivated adults. In addition to reinforcing topics covered in class, homework teaches students to follow directions, work on their own, begin and complete tasks, manage time and work to their full potential. Homework also helps students realize they are responsible for their own learning.

You can have a positive, day to day impact on your child's education by helping with homework. Here are some tips:

1. Tell your child that you want her to succeed in school. Make sure she understands that homework isn't an option, whether the assignment is dull, easy or difficult. If you or your child have questions about assignments, don't be afraid to raise them with teachers or the principal.

2. Emphasize the value of homework by showing your child that you consider the subject he is studying to be important. Help him understand that schoolwork is preparation for the future.

3. Make sure homework gets done first. Set clear rules such as, "No TV or phone calls until your homework is finished."

4. To avoid a mad rush in the morning, teach your child to organize homework in a backpack or school bag before bedtime.

5. If your child forgets to bring homework home, consider asking his teachers to write a log of weekly assignments.
