Break-Fast for Breakfast

by Brandy Maggard

This is the first year since 1976-77 that there has been a breakfast program at Chadwick School. There has been a participation of approximately 70-80 students per morning. The highest number eating so far this year was 88.

After interviewing several students that have been eating breakfast almost every morning since school started most will agree that biscuits and gravy is a favorite.

Zachary Daugherty and B.J. Applegate agree that they like the pancakes and syrup the very best.

Alisha Sisco says it's good food and you can talk to your friends.

Wilma Braden and Barbara Workman get to school at approximately 7 a.m. and it takes about an hour to prepare the breakfast. Wilma admits that she rarely has time to prepare breakfast for her husband, but usually cooks for him on the weekend. She said that she occasionally persuades him to take her out for breakfast.

Mark Walker, Jeremy Scott, and Marisa Scott enjoy an early morning breakfast in the cafeteria.

Terry Beasley Chadwick School Principal

By Shawn Hollon

This year Chadwick School has a new principal. His name is Terry Beasley.

He attended college at Southwest Baptist University at Boliver where he earned his undergraduate degree. He then attended Southwest Missouri State University where he received his masters degree.

While he was in high school and college he held various types of jobs. He worked at McDonalds for a short period of time and then Bonanza. He worked in an outdoor theater at Lakeview, MO. for a summer and was also the managing director at the Stain Glass Theater in Springfield, MO for one year.

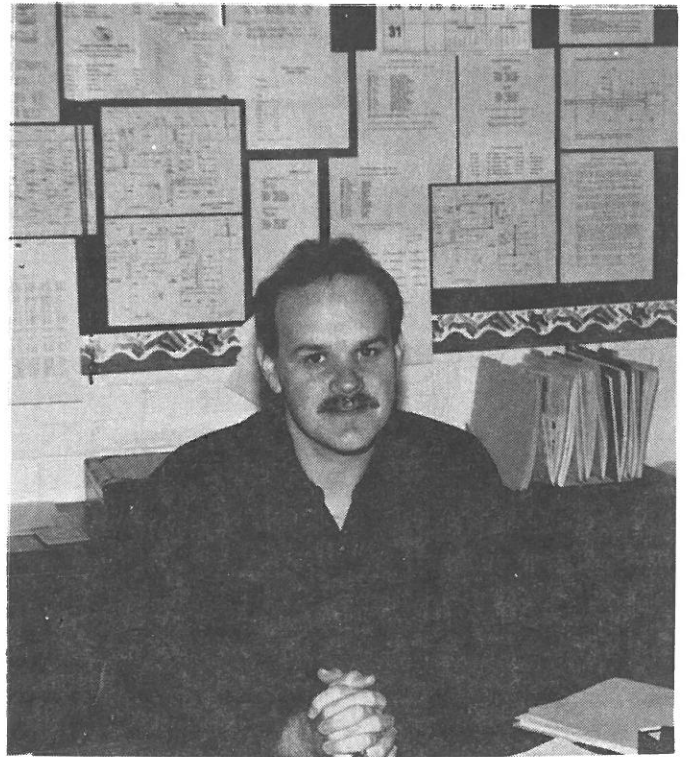

He started teaching at Pleasant Hope. He taught music there for seven years.

Mr. Beasley lives in Ozark with his wife Denise and daughter Victoria. They are also expecting a new baby in November.

Mr. Beasley felt the year started smoothly. He had to learn a lot the first two months. He feels together with the STUCO (Student Council) and the staff, they can do good together. He says we have good students, hard working teachers and a good student body.

Catherine Snider-Gearing commented that, "He has brought enthusiasm and organization to our schools. Mr. Beasley even gives us apples and candy bars in our mailboxes and gives us words of encouragement. His door is always open and he has the patience to listen to us. WE REALLY LIKE HIM."

WELCOME MR. BEASLEY

Stars of Chadwick

by Shawn Hollon

Chadwick principal, Terry Beasley, has started a new program at Chadwick School. This program is called "Stars of Chadwick".

Mr. Beasley asks the teachers to help select students from the elementary and high school. Each week five students are interviewed.

He asks each student what they like to do outside of school, what their favorite subject is in school, what their family is like, and what their plans are in the future.

He said, "it is very exciting to get to know their family and their interests in and out of school and their plans in the future. I really enjoy meeting the students." By the end of the year, he plans to have everybody in the school recognized.

This is an interesting program and we hope he keeps it up.

Secret Pals

by Melinda Campbell

The Chadwick faculty and staff are enjoying something new this year, SECRET PALS. Most of those participating seem to be enjoying this very much.

Some teachers said that they have received many nice gifts from their secret pal. Ms. Barth has received candy and horses of some type. Mrs. Gearing received candy bars and treats. She especially has enjoyed the tribal ink pens. Mrs. Payne has received candy, pop, and stickers. Mrs. Smith has received money, candy, microwave popcorn, and a keychain. Mrs. Siepker has received a scented candle and candy. Mr. Long has received balloons, candy, pop, and notes of encouragement.

Some teachers would like to give a message to their secret pal.

To my sweet talented secret pal. Thank you so very much for the nice things you have put in my mail box. Especially the pink panther, you color so nicely. Thanks again, you make my day.

Mary Jo Burkhart

Thanks for the scented candle. It will help for those days that stink. But so far I haven't had to use it.

Mrs. Siepker

Keep those treats coming!
Mr. Long

I have the best secret pal. It really makes my morning more bright when I get something.

Ms. Barth

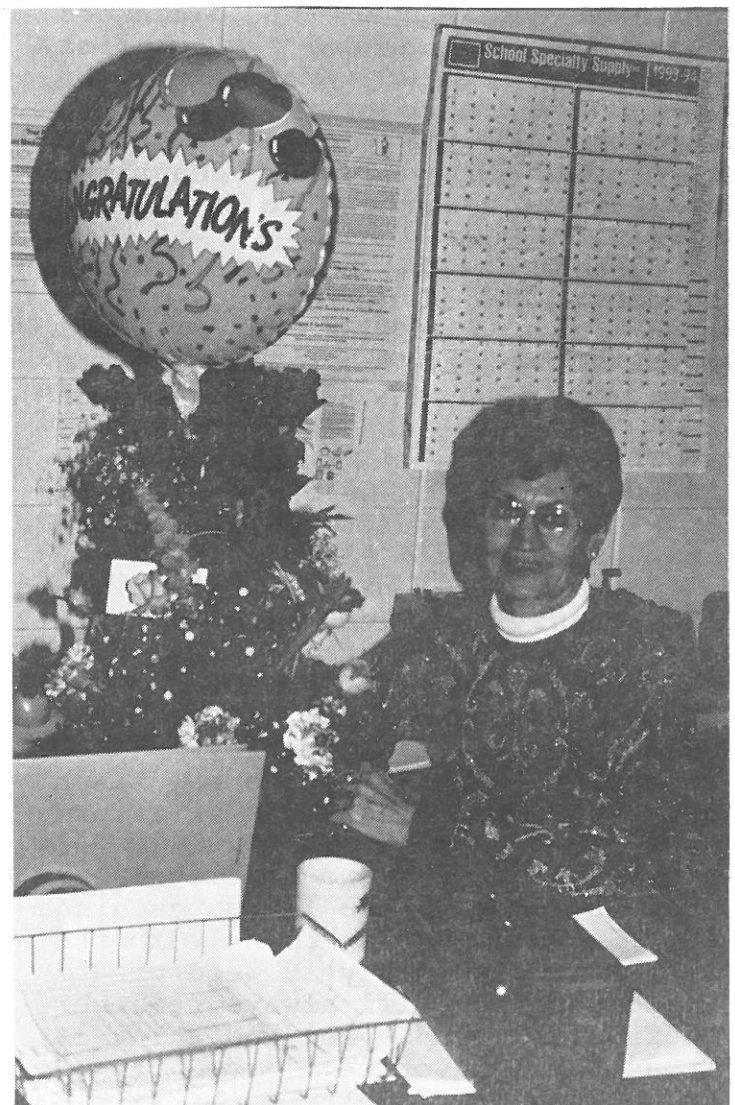

I really enjoy all the treats and special surprises.

Mrs. Gearing

Chadwick Faculty Take CPR Classes

by Mrs. Snider/Gearing

A few members of our faculty are taking a Red Cross CPR and First Aid Class.

The class, which meets after school on Mondays in Marie Day's room, is taught by Jerry Shatto. Jerry works at Delmina Wood and is a Red Cross volunteer instructor; Delmina is sharing Jerry with us for these four afternoons in October.

The class has been very informative; we have a book, have seen videos and have practiced rescue breathing and CPR on "Rescue Annie". The last two meeting will cover First Aid.

Faculty members that completed the class included: Cathie Snider-Gearing, Marie Day, Avaline Harris, Sheryl Siepker, and Bonita Nelson.

Lady Cardinals

The Lady Cardinals varsity volleyball team got off to a slow start losing their first three matches. However, they have been working extremely hard this season and have won their last four games with wins over Seymour, Sparta, Bradleyville, and Fordland pulling their record to 6-7.

The Junior Varsity squad is also doing well this year. Their serving percentage as well as their team play has consistently improved throughout the season.

Coach Arleigh Long comments that she is proud of the Lady Cardinals for realizing hard work during practice time is necessary to be successful.

Drug Free Council

The Drug Free Council is comprised of two students from each class from grades 7-12. Our goals are to educate all students about the dangers of drugs, alcohol and tobacco use. Each year, we send some of our members to regional institutes where we learn how to counsel our peers about drugs. We also receive training to help teach elementary students about the dangers of drugs. This year, we are sponsoring Red Ribbon Week the last week in October. During Red Ribbon Week, we will have speakers and assemblies for all students concerning the use of drugs. Additionally, we will encourage all students to decorate and wear red ribbons all week to show their support for living drug-free. We also will sponsor a drug free holiday dance this year and we will have a queen contest on a penny vote basis. The money we raise will be donated to a drug rehabilitation program in our community. We are proud to be part of Chadwick school and hope everyone will live drug free!

The Drug Free Council sponsored RED RIBBON WEEK, Oct. 25-29. Red Ribbons were given to all junior and senior high school students on Monday. Students were encouraged to wear their ribbons each day of the week to show their support for a drug-free lifestyle.

Additionally the week was designated as "Drug Free Dress-Up Week"

Monday - "School Colors Day"

Tuesday - "Funny Hair Day"

Wednesday - "50's Day"

Thursday - "Baby Day"

Friday - "Book Day"

Two assemblies were held during the week one for the elementary classes and one for 7th-12th grade students. Both featured a speaker from the Christian County Sheriff's Office as well as skits performed by members of the Drug Free Council.

Junior and senior high students had an assembly on Friday October 29 at 2:30 in the new gym. The Drug Free Council awarded certificates to the best costume for each day of the week to students in the 7th and 8th grade and to students in grades 9-12.

Who Would You Like to be?

by Lisa Herd

Out of all the people in the world, who would you like to be? Some of the students at Chadwick tell who they wish they were and why.

Casey Ayers says she would like to be Nichole Kidman because she is married to Tom Cruise.

Chris Eads would prefer to be Babe Ruth because of fame, fortune, and admiration.

RoseAnne Abdulla dreams of being Cindy Crawford because she is thin and pretty.

Mr. Long says he would like to be like "Mike", so he could be retired.

Star Fasano admires Blossom, because she dresses how she wants and has a cool attitude toward life.

Justin House would like to be the millionaire, baseball player, David Justice.

Shawn Guerin wants to be Shaquille O'Neal, because he's a millionaire and so he could rip down the basketball rim.

Christal Gilbert would like just to be herself, because (she thinks) she's already perfect.

Jeremiah Cummings would like to take $84 million home, just as Larry Johnson does.

Abby Payne says she would like to be like her mom Tammy because she's beautiful.

Jessica Loveland dreams of being a famous ice skater on T.V.

Chase Rains would like to be Ty Murray, a bullrider from Texas.

Kendall Walker and Emily Smith both want to be like Reba, because she's a good singer.

Lacey Herd says she would like to be as beautiful as Nikki Taylor.

Most everyone would like to be someone for many reasons whether it be fame, looks, or for the money. Who would you like to be?

by Brandy Maggard

A few people were asked why they think Daytime Drama is called "Soap Opera"?

Mrs. Snider-Gearing says its because these shows are on during the daytime when the homemaker is busy washing dishes, washing clothes, cleaning, etc. while watching television.

Starr Fasano thinks its because it is dramatic and is usually unrealistic just like the soap opera.

Amy Arnold says its because its dramatic and you never know what is going to happen next.

Shawn Hollon thinks its a bunch of bars of soap singing in an opera.

Soap Opera is called this because it is sponsored by Soap products.

CHS Drafting Class

10 THINGS THAT TEACHERS WISH PARENTS WOULD DO

(1) Be involved in their children's education. Parents' involvements helps students learn, improves schools and makes teachers' jobs easier.

(2) Provide resources at home for reading and learning. Parents should have books and magazines for their children and read to or with their children each day.

(3) Set a good example. Parents should show their children that they believe reading is enjoyable and useful. They shouldn't spend all their time in front of the T.V., either.

(4) Encourage children to do their best in school. Parents must indicate that they believe education is important and that they want their children to do the best they possibly can at school.

(5) Emphasize academics. Too many parents get caught up in athletics and in preparing their children for the world of work, when academics should be their first concern.

(6) Support school rules and goals. Parents should take care not to undermine school rules, discipline or goals.

(7) Use pressure positively. Parents should encourage children to do their best, but they should not apply too much pressure by setting unattainable goals or by involving them in too many activities.

(8) Call teachers early if there is a problem (not wait for teachers to call them), so there is still time to improve the situation.

(9) Accept their responsibility as parents and not expect the school and teachers to take over this job.

(10) View drinking by underage youth and excessive partying as a serious matter, not a joke.

Superintendent's Note

Enrollment

Last count we had 238 students in grades K-12. With the new legislation (5B-380) the district will be paid on their Average Daily Attendance (ADA) so it becomes more important for the school for everyone to be in attendance.

School Closing

During the winter months there usually are one or two days that school must be canceled due to inclement weather and road conditions. As soon as it is determined that school will be canceled, the Superintendent notifies the local radio station of the decision. For information as to whether school will be canceled or dismissed early, turn your radio to either KTTS AM/FM or other area radio stations and either of the Springfield Television Stations.

Quarter Ends

Quarter ends October 26 - with Parent-Teacher conferences scheduled for November 5. Your attendance would be appreciated by everyone. If you have any questions about what is expected of your child in school this would be an excellent opportunity for you to get some answers.

Breakfast

This year Chadwick R-1 started a breakfast program which averages approximately 62 participates each day. I would like to encourage you to have your children take advantage of it. Those participating are very pleased with the new program.

Bus Riders

Students are expected to ride their assigned bus unless they have a note stating otherwise - communication by a note would be greatly appreciated.

A Message From the Principal

By Terry Beasley

It seems incredible that a quarter of the 1993-94 school year has passed. A quarter which has been full of learning experiences for students, parents, teachers and even the principal. I will not pretend that the diploma on my office wall has fully prepared me for the expectations of the last three months. Every day is a reminder to me that I must continue to learn. My failure to learn will result in a performance which is not up to the level of quality that I have set for myself.

We live in a performance minded society. When I go to McDonalds for a BigMac, I expect the best tasting sandwich I have ever eaten. That is what I expect. Let me ask you to consider this question: What do you as a student expect from your school? Do you desire to be educated or entertained? I am pleased by the fact that Chadwick School is full of teachers who desire to see students learn and excel. However, the challenge is to produce students who have the same desire. How? Well, I guess if I knew the answer to that question, I would be Dr. Beasley instead of Mr. Beasley. I do believe that I have some of the essential ingredients. First, we need parents who expect the best out of their children in school. We must get away from the mentality that sixty or seventy percent is good enough. If McDonalds has that attitude their sign would not read "Billions Served". Second, we need students who will push themselves to always be the best they can be. Unfortunately, some students only perform when the limelight is focused on them. If we allow students to accept this work ethic, our schools and our nation is in jeopardy. Third, we need teachers who can work with parents and students to help them excel. This places importance on communication between the school and home as well as between the student and parent.

The educational team is made up of three members: parents, students and teachers. Teachers can not take the place of parents; parents can not replace teachers; and no one can do the work for the students. We must equip and challenge students to be life-long learners who desire to do the best work possible. We have a great challenge. I believe that we can accomplish this task together. Thank you for your efforts and support.
