I, Lancie Bowling, will Clay my truck & Wii skills; Maddie my clothes & basketball skills; Lacy my driver's license & driving ability; Krystyn all the fun talks & drives to school activities; and to the class of 2011, many more crazy class discussions & much success in the future.

I, Lacy Boykin, will Lancie & Krystyn more lunch conversations; my sister Adreanna the ability to get work done on time; the junior class good luck; and the senior class of 2011 the best of luck in the years to come.

I, Erika Davis, will my brother Evan the ability to work hard in school; Jamie one more mouthy bus ride; Ashlee the ability to keep Jamie under control; Shelby one more creek day and a trip to Scooters; and Sierra Rae the ability to put up with Brad and a lifetime of friendship.

I, Krystyn Dollarhide, will my class the ability to succeed; my parents the courage to let things go; my siblings the crazy things we've done; Lancie all the fun times; Lacy another laugh; and the ball team another fun game.

I, Aleshia Erickson, will Sierra a 2-hour phone call & dance to decorate; Erika a day at the creek; Shelby a "big story"; the boys the ability to never grow up & never slow down; Jude more bowling; Evan the ability to catch the bus & drive Dad crazy; and my class a summer break, an early out for snow, & the best of luck. I'll miss you.

I, Kelsey Frossard, will LeAnna the laughter and tears; Stumpy, Dakota, Bryce, & Zak, the crazy times at VoTech; Coach Payne the awful P.E. classes; my family & friends support, love, and always being there; and my senior class all the hard work we did.

I, LeAnna Grimes, will my parents the ability to make it through one more high school career for my sister; my sister the ability to stay quiet on the trips we take; and Jessica Booher more hilarious jokes in choir class.

I, Jake Hall, will Stump a Chevrolet truck; Mike and Dakota a prank call and trip to Cruisin' USA; Cole a trip to Gladetop; Seth another day picking on the girls; Rick a good hip; Shelby a new set of dentures for her boyfriend; Sierra more days listening to stories about Brad and one more wrestling match.

I, Michael Jansen, will Vince half my bug; Cris laughing til we die again; Ethan bigger ears & ice cream; Boohoo my glasses; Mr. Walker my hooded car seat cover; my friends & family lots of love; and to the world my smile.

I, Shelby Jones, will Stevi the ability to make it to school with enough gas; Sierra more creek trips and Scooter runs; Rick one more long trip to Aurora; Jamie the ability to stay calm; Jake & Seth girlfriends; all of them life long friendship; my ball team a state championship; and to my seniors success.

I, Sierra Rozell, will Shelby & Erika days at the creek, trips to Scooters, & my love; Aleshia another day hating the world; Seth one more day as your "girlfriend"; Jake more unwanted conversations; Kailyn a stick to keep the boys away and a special next 4 years; Brad motorcycles & love; my family many thanks; Mitchell a worthless practice. To my class, thanks for tolerating me on my worst days and making the good ones better. I love you all.

I, Ethan Ruhland, will Cris more never ending laughs; Vince my superior basketball skills; Landon more morning video game conversations; Blake my zombie slaying awesomeness; Matt & Jude bigger muscles than mine; Jansen, a bigger vehicle; LeAnna, my heart; and my family thanks for always being there.

I, Kimberly Seals, will Elizabeth one more ride on the Hogwarts Express and the keys to the castle; Lacy a wingman; and the class a chance to change their stars.

I, Jude Severson, will Dean my love forever; Sierra a date in the off-season; Shelby the ability to accept "sorry"; Blake the ability to keep the good times rollin'; Clay another ride in the ol' Chevy; and Lancie my awesome Ford truck. I love Momma.

I, Justin Shipman, will Jeanine another year on the VoTech bus with us stinky boys; my undying ability to tick anyone off to Mr. Petro; Kaylee Brooke the ability to go left in the post; and Jake one more lunch with Mitch.

I, Seth Thomas, will Dakota my amazing basketball abilities; Shelby and Cole my height; Jake one more game; Sierra my quietness; Rick my outstanding shooting; and my basketball team another district championship.

ELEMENTARY ACTION

Back Again

New classes. New students. New programs.
Chadwick kicks off another school year by getting students excited, involved, and motivated.

School started back September 7, after an extended summer break. Students were greeted with the sounds of on-going construction on the storm shelter and new classrooms.

New classes, including additional dual credit classes and Latin, were also offered to students preparing for college.

"It is really nice to have more choices. It's given a lot of us the chance to get ahead and get ready for college," said senior Aleshia Erickson, who enrolled in three dual credit classes and Latin.

School was back in session just in time for the volleyball and junior high basketball teams to kick off their seasons.

Both teams started the season with games against Niangua on the first day back from break.

"It gave me two things to look forward to," said eighth grader Taylor McMullen, "the first day of school and the first game of the season."

Right: Ms. May teaches Emma and the rest of the first grade about imagination.

Right: Coach Long gives the team a pep talk.

After an exciting hiking trip to Arkansas this summer, Hannah is working hard at keeping straight A's all year. She likes math, PE, and social studies above the rest, and is excited for the Chadwick Carnival. "I'm looking forward to getting to work at it, to help out my class," she said.

"I'm already ready for the last day," said Kimberly when asked about her junior year. She said the extra days that she got to sleep in this summer were definitely the best part, but it made coming back this year even more difficult. Kimberly said that the hardest part of this year is getting here on time, and all the homework.

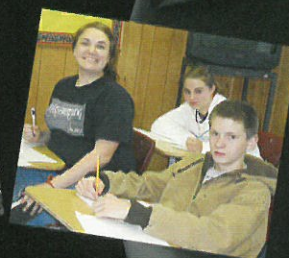

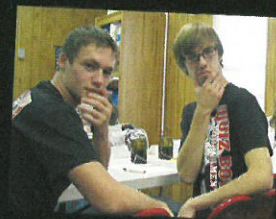

Landon is looking forward to the end of the day. He is trying to pass all his classes this year, but like many others isn't too crazy about getting up early. Landon likes getting to do cool activities in Mr. Bork's class, but is ready for summer to roll around so he can spend his time playing video games and riding dirt bikes again.

"The hardest part of this school year? Waking up." At least that's what Tina thinks about the school year so far. She has set a goal to make all A's this year. She is excited about prom this year, as it will be her first time getting to go. She loves choir class and seeing the clock hit 3:20.

ROCKTOPPER

As October tips off students & teachers find new ways to keep busy: pre-k and kindergarten students learn about the human body in PE class; John tries his hand at acting in English; Elizabeth gives serious thought a try; Jamie makes a new best friend; juniors and seniors explore their options at the college fair; and Mrs. Long sends her very first email.

Left: On Saturday, October 31, Chadwick School hosted the Time to Drive event at the baseball field with lots of food, games, and prizes. Left: Susan wants out of the bounce house!

Right: When students find anything creepy or crawly they bring it to the science lab. Hailey tries her hand at wrangling a snake.

Left: The Halloween dance brought out many wonderful characters, including twin Alices in Wonderland, Cayla and Susannah. Below: Landen is chillaxin' at half court.

As the first semester drew to a close, students were ready for a break. Many teachers helped time go by a little faster by doing interesting projects and activities in the classroom. Mr.Bork had his classes busy with finals and lab assignments, keeping them on their feet and interested. Senior Lacy Boykin said, "It's cool to get up and get to do something besides take notes and do homework. It keeps us awake."

Kara Maggard '14

"I have a serious fear of clowns."

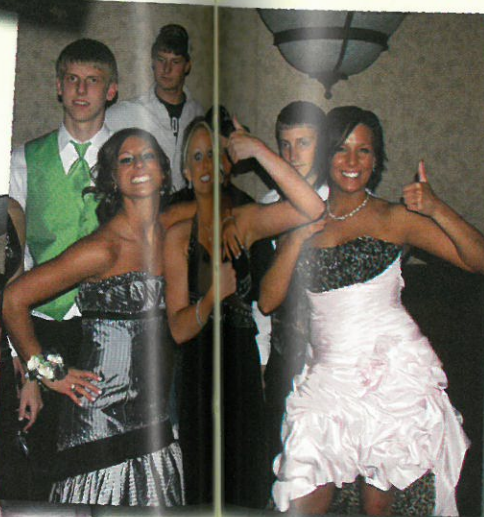

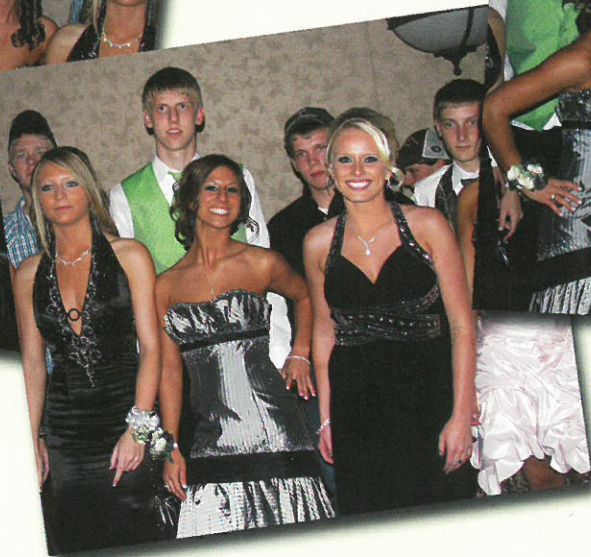

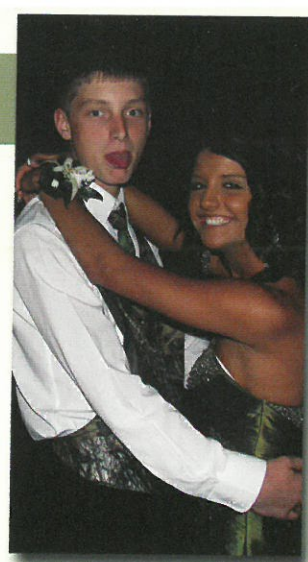

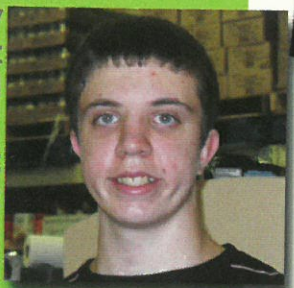

Brandon Dollarhide '13

"I would like to learn how to play the piano."

Guy Weagley '14

"I am very good at playing video games. I could beat anyone at Super Mario Bros."

Right: Nick tries to get comfortable in science class. "It's hard to get a decent nap around this place," Nick said.

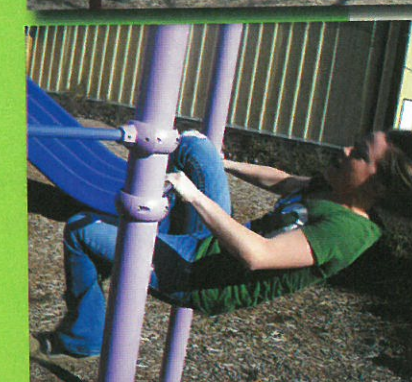

Marching to a different beat

Juniors and Seniors (left) enjoy a Sera di Amore (an evening of love) at the Chateau on the Lake. Seniors Jake Hull and Lacy Boykin were crowned 2011 Prom King and Queen.

The NHS (below) gathers to induct nine new members. "It's the largest group I have had in a long time," said Mrs. Tankersley.

wing, batter batter! Swing!

The boys kicked off another year of baseball, playing games when they could, but missing a few due to massive amounts of rainfall. Other students got involved with various school activities.

NHS hosted its annual blood drive, getting students out of class and into making a difference. "It was nice to see students get out of class for a good cause," NHS president Erika Davis said. "We are such a small community; it is an accomplishment to save so many lives."

The choir classes got involved as the weather warmed as well. They produced two plays: "The True Story of Cinderella" and "The Dragon." The plays were performed twice: once on the 8th and once on the 11th.

Right: Sophomores Mahala and Chelsie let their acting talents shine as they conquer their parts in "The Dragon."

M ay started off with a bustle of activity: banquets, trips, and more. Academic excellence was recognized once again at the annual academic ceremony. Students from elementary to high school were recognized and honored. The athletic banquet was held Friday, May 6. Seniors said farewell to their teammates and long-time coaches. Parents, friends, and fellow students gathered together one last time to celebrate the bonds made from working as a team.

Seniors took a week's worth of trips the first week of May. They spent time in Springfield--eating, bowling, watching movies, and shopping--and a day in Branson at the go-cart track.

Recognition for a A JOB WELL DONE

1. Shelby and Ethan were recognized for being outstanding student athletes.

2. Erika was among seniors honored by the military.

3. Jude was awarded a $5000 scholarship from the National FFA.

4. The junior high volleyball team said goodbye to long-time-coach Arleigh Long.

5. Shelby received the award for the most assists.

6. Male athletes toasted Chadwick alumnus Jon Graif's military success.

7. The Lady Cardinals show off their various awards.

time to move on

Seniors said their final goodbyes on May 13. Salutatorian Shelby Jones fought back tears as she told the story of the Class of 2011. Valedictorian Ethan Ruhland encouraged his classmates to challenge their limitations. Then, Coach Mitchell talked about how the class had been like a family to him and advised the graduating 8th graders that the next four years will fly by.

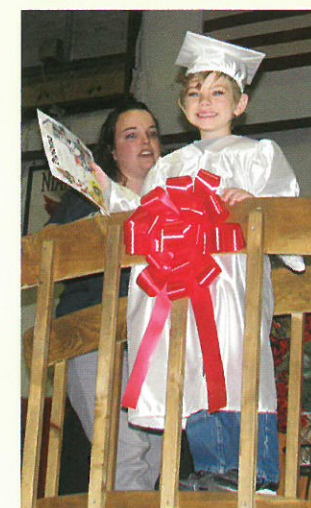

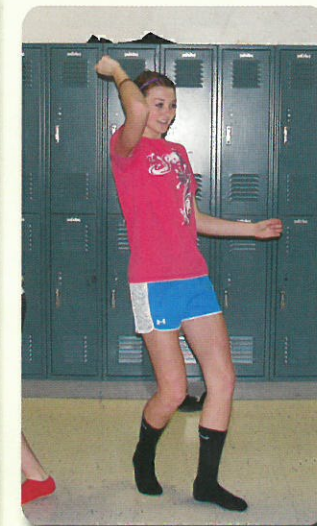

Chadwick students got a head start on summer break by spending the last full day playing games, talking with friends, and watching movies.
