I, Jordan Gilbert, will to Mom and Dad thanks for putting up with me, to Matt rusty coins, to Shannon Swiss cheese, to Shelby getting past level 30 on Call of Duty, and to everyone who will understand this: I lost the game.

I, Matthew Wheelock, will Devin my awesomeness, the entire elementary a grand life, Jeffrey a stable relationship, the high school the ability to dance at dances as well as to participate in assemblies. I will Chadwick students social skills.

I, Kelsey Ruhland, will Maddie one more song in art class, Zena and Maddie one more trip to Maddie's house before a game, and Hailey my ability to not constantly get yelled at in practice.

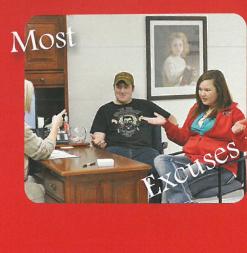

I, Mahala Overby, will Faith and Kallie more times wrestling with the pop machine, Hannah more arguments with Rachel, and Susanna the ability to keep the peace. I wish the class of 2014 good luck in filling the shoes we have left them.

I, Kaylee Swindle, will my brothers the ability to get to class on time. I will Syd, Landon, Devin, and Madawg another day in science. I will Kailyn and Hailey another day at the creek. I will Zena a trip to Sonic. I will Riley one more Saturday night. Love you!

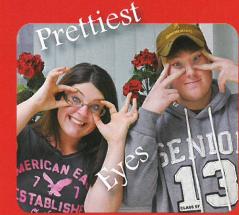

I, Shannon Lair, will Matt and Jordan more lunch conversations, Faith more talks about the guys we're stalking, Kallie the ability to keep calm and breathe, Mahala a lifelong friendship, my sister Tarra all my love forever, my grandma a big thank you, and the Class of 2013 the best of luck!

To most people, thirteen is an unlucky number, but to this year's seniors, it is the number they have been waiting for!

Mrs. Meinders and Dawson's costumes are groovy. Too bad Coach Meinders refused to be Scooby-Doo.

Maddie scored her 1000th point as a junior. Too bad she found out thirteen games later.

Luckily for Mrs. Payne, the preschoolers take naps. Too bad Sidney isn't tired!

but luckily, Susannah came prepared.

Luckily, the bingo night was a success. Too bad the chili was a little hot!

Toby likes to sneak an occassional nap. Too bad he was caught in the act.

The girls are lucky to have the support of the boys. Too bad pink's not their color.

Ernie's favorite class is P.E. Too bad someone tied his shoes together when he wasn't looking.

Oh no! They're out of napkins. Luckily, the food is finger-licking good.

Kallie had money for new shoes. Too bad she spent it all on pop!

Luckily for Brittney, there's a doctor in the house. Too bad it's Dr. Shortt.

Emily didn't place in the MTC math contest. Luckily she still got dessert!

Recently, in addition to organizing the carnival, the athletic banquet, and teacher appreciation week; donating classroom supplies; and awarding scholarships, the PTO was glad to provide a much-needed portable stage for school events.

Our yearbook is done, but before we are through, we've got eleven more things to spy for you: a math book, a crazy driver, someone bright, snow and a tornado in a picture from May, a math book, a crazy driver, someone bright, a red spoon, Rondo, and two kids not upright, hallway swimmers, a cowboy, and the whole USA!
